2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organises special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

Learning levels of the students are assessed based on their responses in the classroom and also keeping the ranks they obtained in the admission test.

The students are asked to write their expectations from the course to test their writing abilities. Based on their performance, their learning levels are assessed from the viewpoint of content and writing skills. Further, the skills of the students are assessed through the continuous assessment in the classroom. The students are divided into advanced learners and slow learners.

In the existing Mentor and mentee system each teacher is provided with a group of students, both advanced learners and slow learners.

The mentor can attach one advanced learner with slow learner in the group as per the number thereby facilitating the advanced learner to guide and encourage the slow learners of the same group. Bilingual teaching, explanation and discussions are also helpful to the students for a better understanding of the subject.

Apart from this mentor-mentee system, regular research scholars are also involved in providing the learning skills for slow learners. Each scholar would take care of one slow learner and give instruction separately to improve their knowledge in the subject.
